CIA Official Talks At War College

Paul E. Eckel of the Central Intelligence Agency addressed the staff and classes at the Naval War College today on "Current Counterinsurgency Capabilities." In discussing his subject, Eckel also spoke of the threat to United States security posed by the revolution of rising expectations.

Prior to the holiday recess, other speakers at the college will be Gen. Barksdale Hamlett, USA, vice Army chief of staff, tomorrow; Niles J. Bond, coordinator, foreign service institute, State Department, on Wednesday, and Joseph A. Mendenhall, deputy director, Bureau of Far Eastern Affairs, State Department, on Friday.
